

COLORADO EXPRESSION

COMMERCIAL

Hospitality Under 10,000 Square Feet FIRST PLACE (ABOVE)

Clay Pryor and Sven Moscato—
Design Lines, Inc.

Project: Trilogy at La Quinta, La Quinta, Calif. • This standout sales pavilion emphasizes the visual impact and feeling of desert Palm Springs. The setting sun produces an almost spiritual color scheme of yellow and coral with shadows of green and blue best observed through the oversized gallery windows that overlook the mountains which border the site. This show of nature is paired with cooler interior tones and textures and the smooth, clean lines of maple.

Hospitality Over 10,000 Square Feet FIRST PLACE (RIGHT)

Donna Fig, ASID, Sarah Schiltz, and
Beth Slifer—Slifer Designs

Project: Red Sky Ranch Golf Course Members Clubhouse • Expensive, turn-of-the-century-style jewelry was the inspiration for the colors and luxurious look of this clubhouse which exudes a relaxing, residential feel. The interior conveys a richness that blends with the magnificent landscape of rolling foothills, aspen trees, sagebrush, endless Rocky Mountain views, and a weather phenomenon that occurs when light reflects off clouds to create the colorful sky for which the club is named.

